CHOOSING THE SAFE & SUSTAINABLE-BY-DESIGN PATH

Dr. Biochim. Mihaela DONI, General Manager ICECHIM

From everyday workshops, to conferences and symposia shaping the future of chemistry, our events span the entire landscape of the chemical sciences. Should you be keen on witnessing the latest science, progressing your career and connecting with ICECHIM community, our experienced events team will support you from the beginning to the end of your experience.

Between 11-13 October 2023, the Scientific Committee and the Organizing Committee of PRIOCHEM 2023 invite you to attend the XIXth edition of the International Symposium "Priorities of Chemistry for a Sustainable Development" showcasing innovative solutions for sustainable development with reference to bioeconomy, smart materials, recycling and circularity and, not the least, environmental protection - domains that heavily depend on chemistry and engineering research inputs.

The PRIOCHEM XIX dedicated webpage contains information regarding event calendar, sections, location and on-line registration, as well as downloadable items for your consideration.

HOW TO RESERVE A SEAT

Registration Fees:

Early bird: by August 18th, 2023

120 EUR (professionals) / 60 EUR (students)

Standard: August 18th to September 15th

160 EUR (professionals) / 80 EUR (students)

Authors will be notified of the outcome of the review process within 1 week of the abstract submission deadline. Please ensure you provide the details of the presenting author.

Payment of one registration fee entitles the participant to present in conference maximum 2 scientific contributions where he/she is co-author. Participants who wish to present more than 2 scientific contributions will pay an additional registration fee.

PRIOCHEM's Organizing Committee is keen on encouraging and enabling as many people as possible to attend our events, to benefit from the networking opportunities and the chance to hear talks from leaders in the field. If you would like to discuss accessibility, please contact us at priochem@icechim.ro to accommodate your requirements so that we can enable your attendance.

We encourage delegates who are planning to attend PRIOCHEM XIX in person to arrange suitable travel and accommodation insurance, which should include cover for the postponement or cancellation of travel caused by regulations and guidelines relating to Covid-19. We also recommend considering flexible travel and accommodation booking options where possible.

In-person registration includes:

- Attendance at all scientific sessions
- Attendance at the poster sessions and access to the online poster gallery
- Access to PRIOCHEM's online conference platform
- Access to recordings of all scientific sessions post-event
- In-person and online networking opportunities
- Refreshments throughout the meeting/lunch.
